The questions below should be seen as starting points for personal investigations in which you make reference to critical and contextual material with which you are familiar.

Answer one question.

1 'Blue Skies' Travel

A travel agent, 'Blue Skies', requires new poster designs to promote worldwide travel. Look at the work and techniques of appropriate artists and designers and develop your own designs for one mode of travel such as train, boat or plane.

2 Montage

Many graphic artists, photographers, painters and film-makers have used the technique of montage to create an image that communicates a specific idea or concept. Research appropriate examples and develop work using this technique.

3 Book Cover

Illustrators often use the title of a book as a starting point for their designs. Develop ideas for a book cover based on a work of science fiction or fantasy of your choice, making reference to appropriate examples. Carefully consider the relationship between the text and the illustration.

4 Conservation

You have been asked to create work in any appropriate graphic medium, for example, an animation, storyboard or web page, which introduces efforts to conserve a particular species of flora or fauna from extinction. Make reference to appropriate material.

5 Packaging

'SWIFT' is a company wishing to promote itself as being fast, reliable and efficient in delivering small, boxed items. Develop designs for an easily assembled and sturdy box with suitable imagery and text. Make reference to appropriate contextual material.
