Mark Scheme

English Language and Literature A

NTA1

Mark schemes are prepared by the Principal Examiner and considered, together with the relevant questions, by a panel of subject teachers. This mark scheme includes any amendments made at the standardisation meeting attended by all examiners and is the scheme which was used by them in this examination. The standardisation meeting ensures that the mark scheme covers the candidates' responses to questions and that every examiner understands and applies it in the same correct way. As preparation for the standardisation meeting each examiner analyses a number of candidates' scripts: alternative answers not already covered by the mark scheme are discussed at the meeting and legislated for. If, after this meeting, examiners encounter unusual answers which have not been discussed at the meeting they are required to refer these to the Principal Examiner.

It must be stressed that a mark scheme is a working document, in many cases further developed and expanded on the basis of candidates' reactions to a particular paper. Assumptions about future mark schemes on the basis of one year's document should be avoided; whilst the guiding principles of assessment remain constant, details will change, depending on the content of a particular examination paper.

January 2005*NTA1*DISTRIBUTION OF ASSESSMENT OBJECTIVES AND WEIGHTINGS

The table below is a reminder of which Assessment Objectives will be tested by the questions and the marks available for them.

Unit 1

Assessment Objective	AO4	AO6
Question 1 Production	25 (x2)	25 (x2)
Question 2 Commentary		25 (x2)

Question 1 – Production*Marking procedure

- 1 Use the question specific mark scheme first to get a sense of which features are present in the candidate's work – then use the grid.
- 2 Use of AO4 must be seen through AO6; mark piece of writing where context and choice of form by the candidate are reflected in their own writing, and where they have made informed choices in their own work.
- 3 Award 25 marks for each AO, multiply each by 2 to arrive at a mark out of 100.

Question 2 – Commentary*Marking Procedure

- 1 Assessment of AO6 is concentrated upon the second part of the AO; mark piece of writing where commentary reflects and explains candidate's own writing, and where informed choices have been made based upon their own reading in AS English Language and Literature.
- 2 Award 25 marks for AO6, multiply by 2 to arrive at a mark out of 50.

Question 1 Your task is to write a newspaper or magazine article, in which you express your views on a local or national issue of your choice. You should aim to express an opinion and to interest your readers.

You should name the publication or type of publication for which your article would be suitable. You should provide a title or headline, but should not attempt to reproduce the layout of a newspaper.

Text A is an example of an editorial article and is taken from The Yorkshire Post. Text B is a ‘comment’ article and is taken from The Big Issue in the North magazine. These are examples of how you could approach this task in terms of style. You should not write about the same topics as Texts A and B. You are advised to write approximately 300 – 400 words.

Key words: magazine or newspaper article – express your views – controversial topic – express opinion – interest readers

Assessment focuses: choice or form, style and vocabulary – expertise and accuracy for specific audience and purpose – knowledge of literary text and features of language

Band 5: (21 – 25 marks)

21 – 25 Skilful and entirely convincing article which reveals complete awareness of form and purpose
Thorough engaging writing which interests the reader
Persuasive use of rhetorical features
Sophisticated approach/expression
Cohesive, stylish and accurate writing

Band 4: (16 – 20 marks)

18 – 20 Confident article which reveals a very sound awareness of form
Convincing writing which holds the reader’s attention
Confident use of rhetorical features. Sustained use of appropriate style.
Firm control of technical aspects.

16 – 17 Clear, competent article which reveals a sound awareness of form
Ideas are appropriate
Approach fulfils the task. Well expressed.
Style is appropriate with some stylistic shaping. Few technical errors.

Band 3: (11 – 15 marks)

14 – 15 General awareness of article form, with some inconsistencies
Ideas generally suitable
Approach not entirely convincing but seriously attempted
Expression generally clear and controlled
Candidate strives for suitable style, but some, relatively minor inconsistencies
Possibly some technical flaws.

- 11 – 13      Basic awareness of article form but some misjudgements about style
Approach broadly but not entirely appropriate
Attempt made to put forward opinions but the writing lacks convincing stylistic shaping
Expression lacks flexibility and sophistication
Possibly a number of technical flaws – few basic errors

Band 2: (6 – 10 marks)

- 8 – 10      Candidate has written an article but approach reveals limited understanding of the task
Some suitable ideas but the writing is unlikely to be engaging
Limited sense of how to express feelings in this context
Some flaws in expression
Likely to be frequent technical flaws
- 6 – 7      Some attempt made to write an article but approach not convincing
Very limited/simplistic ideas for audience and purpose
Style not convincing. Unlikely to be engaging and of interest
Unsophisticated approach/simplistic language
Intrusive errors

Band 1: (0 – 5 marks)

- 4 – 5      Basic misjudgements in approach reveal very limited awareness of task or article form, although a few ideas may be suitable at a very basic level
Writing likely to be poorly constructed and difficult to follow
Lacks audience awareness
Intrusive basic errors
- 1 – 3      Very little or no sense of article form
Unlikely to be any sense of how to make the writing engaging for the reader
Style likely to be entirely inappropriate
Major flaws in technical aspects

Question 1

Your task is to write a newspaper or magazine article, in which you express your views on a local or national issue of your choice. You should aim to express an opinion and to interest your readers.

You should name the publication or type of publication for which your article would be suitable. You should provide a title or headline, but should not attempt to reproduce the layout of a newspaper.

Text A is an example of an editorial article and is taken from the Yorkshire Post. Text B is a ‘comment’ article taken from The Big Issue in the North magazine. These are examples of how you could approach this task in terms of style. You should not write about the same topics as Texts A and B.

You are advised to write approximately 300 – 400 words.

Assessment Objectives tested on this question: AO4, AO6.

The following stylistic/content features may be present in candidates’ responses:

- appropriate register and style for stated magazine/newspaper
- appropriate register and style for type of article – e.g. comment/editorial
- suitable title/headline
- clear point of view
- effectively structured argument
- engagement with the audience
- technically accurate writing
