1. Introduction

1.1 Why choose Cambridge?

University of Cambridge International Examinations (CIE) is the world's largest provider of international qualifications. Around 1.5 million students from 150 countries enter Cambridge examinations every year. What makes educators around the world choose Cambridge?

Recognition

Cambridge IGCSE is internationally recognised by schools, universities and employers as equivalent to UK GCSE. Cambridge IGCSE is excellent preparation for A/AS Level, the Advanced International Certificate of Education (AICE), US Advanced Placement Programme and the International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma. Learn more at www.cie.org.uk/recognition.

Support

CIE provides a world-class support service for teachers and exams officers. We offer a wide range of teacher materials to Centres, plus teacher training (online and face-to-face) and student support materials. Exams officers can trust in reliable, efficient administration of exams entry and excellent, personal support from CIE Customer Services. Learn more at www.cie.org.uk/teachers.

Excellence in education

Cambridge qualifications develop successful students. They not only build understanding and knowledge required for progression, but also learning and thinking skills that help students become independent learners and equip them for life.

Not-for-profit, part of the University of Cambridge

CIE is part of Cambridge Assessment, a not-for-profit organisation and part of the University of Cambridge. The needs of teachers and learners are at the core of what we do. CIE invests constantly in improving its qualifications and services. We draw upon education research in developing our qualifications.

1. Introduction

1.2 Why choose Cambridge IGCSE History?

Cambridge IGCSE is accepted by universities and employers worldwide as providing proof of historical knowledge and understanding.

This History syllabus offers students the opportunity to study some of the major international issues of the 19th and 20th centuries, as well as looking in greater depth at the history of a particular region or regions. The emphasis within the syllabus is as much on developing lifelong historical skills as on acquiring knowledge.

Successful candidates gain valuable skills including:

- an interest in and enthusiasm for learning and understanding about the past
- an understanding of historical concepts such as cause and consequence, continuity and change, and similarity and difference
- an appreciation of historical evidence and how to use it
- a greater understanding of international issues and inter-relationships
- how to present clear, logical arguments

1.3 Cambridge International Certificate of Education (ICE)

Cambridge ICE is the group award of the International General Certificate of Secondary Education (IGCSE). It requires the study of subjects drawn from the five different IGCSE subject groups. It gives schools the opportunity to benefit from offering a broad and balanced curriculum by recognising the achievements of students who pass examinations in at least seven subjects, including two languages, and one subject from each of the other subject groups.

The Cambridge portfolio of IGCSE qualifications provides a solid foundation for higher level courses such as GCE A and AS Levels and the International Baccalaureate Diploma as well as excellent preparation for employment.

A wide range of IGCSE subjects is available and these are grouped into five curriculum areas. History (0470) falls into Group II, Humanities and Social Sciences.

Learn more about ICE at www.cie.org.uk/qualifications/academic/middlesec/ice.

2. Assessment at a glance

Availability

This syllabus is examined in the May/June examination session and the October/November examination session.

It is available worldwide.

This syllabus is available to private candidates.

Centres in the UK that receive government funding are advised to consult the CIE website www.cie.org.uk for the latest information before beginning to teach this syllabus.

Combining this with other syllabuses

Candidates can combine this syllabus in an examination session with any other CIE syllabus, except:

- syllabuses with the same title at the same level
- 2158 O Level History (World Affairs, 1917–91)
- 2160 O Level History (for Candidates in Central and Southern Africa)
- 2162 O Level History (for Candidates in Mauritius)

Please note that IGCSE, Cambridge International Level 1/Level 2 Certificates and O Level syllabuses are at the same level.

3. Syllabus aims and objectives

3.1 Aims

These are set out below and describe the educational purposes of a course in History for the IGCSE Certificate. They are not listed in order of priority.

The aims are to:

- stimulate interest in and enthusiasm about the past
- promote the acquisition of knowledge and understanding of human activity in the past
- ensure that the candidates' knowledge is rooted in an understanding of the nature and use of historical evidence
- promote an understanding of the nature of cause and consequence, continuity and change, and similarity and difference
- provide a sound basis for further study and the pursuit of personal interest
- encourage international understanding
- encourage the development of linguistic and communication skills.

3.2 Assessment Objectives

To pass Cambridge IGCSE History, candidates must demonstrate the following:

A01: an ability to recall, select, organise and deploy knowledge of the syllabus content

A02: an understanding of:

- change and continuity, cause and consequence, similarity and difference
- the motives, emotions, intentions and beliefs of people in the past

A03: an ability to understand, interpret, evaluate and use a range of sources as evidence, in their historical context.

3. Syllabus aims and objectives

3.3 Assessment components

The information below is summarised in Assessment at a Glance (see Section 2).

Candidates must be entered for the following papers:

- Paper 1
- Paper 2
- either Paper 3 (Coursework) or Paper 4 (Alternative to Coursework).

Note: no questions will be set (in any paper) on issues or events which have occurred within five years of the date of the examination.

Paper 1 (2 hours)

This Paper consists of two sections: Section A and Section B.

Section A

This will contain eight questions. Four questions will be set on the 19th century, selected from the six topics in Core Content: Option A (see 4.1). Four will be set on the 20th century, selected from the seven topics in Core Content: Option B (see 4.2). Candidates must answer two questions.

Section B

This will contain two questions on each of the eight Depth Studies (see 4.3). Candidates must answer one question.

Note: three questions will be set on Depth Study E, Southern Africa in the 20th Century.

All questions on Paper 1 will be structured into three parts and will include stimulus material. This stimulus material will be of assistance in answering at least one of the sub-questions, but not necessary to the answering of any of them.

In any given session, no question is set on Paper 1 which is on the same topics tested in Paper 2.

Paper 2 (2 hours)

This paper will have two options: a 19th-century Prescribed Topic and a 20th-century Prescribed Topic. Candidates answer the questions on one option.

3. Syllabus aims and objectives

The topics will be prescribed each year and will be taken from the Core Content. Each option will include a collection of source material relating to the prescribed topic, and a series of questions based on the material.

For the examination in 2012 the Prescribed Topics are:

19th century Core: What caused the First World War? (May/June examination)
or How was Italy unified? (November examination)

20th century Core: To what extent was the League of Nations a success?
 (May/June examination)
or How secure was the USSR's control of Eastern Europe?
 (November examination)

Paper 3: Coursework (Centre-based assessment)

Candidates must produce two pieces of coursework, totalling around 1500 words, on any one or two of the Depth Studies (which can include Depth Studies devised by the Centre itself). One piece of work must target Assessment Objectives 1 and 2, and the other must target Assessment Objective 3.

Centres assess Coursework with the formal approval of CIE. Teachers may not undertake centre-based assessment without the written approval of CIE. Formal approval will only be given to teachers who satisfy CIE requirements concerning moderation, and they will have to undergo special training in assessment before entering candidates. CIE offers schools in-service training in the form of courses held at intervals in Cambridge and elsewhere, and also via Distance Training Packs.

Paper 4: Alternative to Coursework (1 hour)

On each of the Depth Studies one question will be set. Each question will be source-based and will be structured into several parts. It will test all the Assessment Objectives. Candidates must answer one question.

3. Syllabus aims and objectives

3.4 Specification grid

Paper	Weighting		Assessment Objectives
	Marks	Percentage	1	2	3
1	60	40%	30	30
2	50	33%	10	10	30
3 or 4	40	27%	10	10	20
Total	150	100%

Weighting of Assessment Objectives

The table shows the relationship between the Assessment Objectives and the Scheme of Assessment:

	Paper 1 (marks)	Paper 2 (marks)	Paper 3 (marks)	Paper 4 (marks)	Whole assessment (%)
A01	30	10	10	10	33%
A02	30	10	10	10	33%
A03		30	20	20	33%

4. Curriculum content

All students must study the whole of either the 19th century or the 20th century Core Content, and at least one of the Depth Studies.

The Core Content outlined below is structured by Key Questions and Focus Points. The Focus Points provide guidance on what is involved in addressing each Key Question. There are times when a Focus Point is used to set the scene for a Key Question, but without apparently bearing on the Key Question itself. This helps to indicate what is required if the Key Question itself is to be addressed adequately.

Candidates will be expected to demonstrate an understanding of the Key Questions and Focus Points, using knowledge of relevant historical examples.

The following description of content is not intended to be rigidly prescriptive of a school course.

4.1 Core Content: Option A

The 19th century: The Development of Modern Nation States, 1848–1914

The Core Content in Option A focuses on six Key Questions:

Depth Study G: The Creation of Modern Industrial Society

This Depth Study looks at the 19th-century social and economic consequences of the Industrial Revolution. In setting questions for the examination it will be assumed that candidates have studied the British Industrial Revolution. However, teachers are encouraged – particularly through coursework – to introduce comparative studies of industrialisation in countries such as Germany, the USA or Japan.

1 Why did industry develop rapidly during the 19th century?

Focus Points

- Why was there increasing demand for iron and steel, coal and textiles, and how was this demand met?
- How important were technological advances in the development of industry?
- How were workers affected by the industrial changes and the development of the factory system?
- How important were (a) individuals, and (b) legislation, in improving working conditions?

2 How significant were improvements to transport in the 19th century?

Focus Points

- What were the disadvantages of roads and canals for Britain's transport needs in the early 19th century?
- Why and how did Britain develop a railway system?
- How did conditions for passengers improve during the 19th century?
- How significant were the social and economic consequences of the railways?

3 What were the causes of urbanisation, and its effects on living conditions during the 19th century?

Focus Points

- Why was there a rapid growth of towns in the 19th century?
- Why did the rapid growth of towns lead to insanitary conditions?
- Why did it take so long to improve conditions in the towns?
- Why had there been some improvement in conditions by 1900?

4. Curriculum content

4 How successful were 19th-century working-class movements?

Focus Points

- What attempts were made to organise the working classes?
- Why were working-class movements generally weak in the first half of the 19th century?
- How successful were the courts and Parliament in limiting the power of the unions?
- How different was 'new unionism' from the New Model unions?

Specified Content

- Reasons for increasing demand, e.g. population, price, improvements in transport
- Impact of technological developments on organisation, location and methods of industry
- The development of the factory system
- Working conditions
- Workers' responses to changes in working practices
- Attitudes of factory owners to their workers
- The roles of individuals and legislation in improving working conditions.
- Industrialisation and the need for improved transport
- The shortcomings of road and canal transport
- Problems in developing a railway network
- The work of the Stephensons and Brunel
- The effects of the growth of railways on canal and road transport, industry and agriculture, and different social groups
- The roles of government and private finance in creating a national railway system
- Improvements in comfort and safety for railway passengers in the second half of the 19th century.
- Changes of centres of population in different areas of Britain
- Reasons for the growth of towns
- Reasons for insanitary conditions
- Government and local attitudes to insanitary conditions
- Attempts at improvement:
 - o the Public Health Acts of 1848 and 1875
 - o slum clearance
 - o Chamberlain in Birmingham
 - o model towns.
- Working people and industrialisation: early combinations, trade clubs, friendly societies
- The Combination Acts
- The Tolpuddle Martyrs

4. Curriculum content

- Owen and the GNCTU
- The Co-operative Movement
- The Chartists
- New Model Unions
- The growth of unions for unskilled workers: farm workers, the match girls, the London dockers
- Attitudes of government and employers towards trade unions, the impact of legislation and decisions of the courts.

4. Curriculum content

Depth Study H: The Impact of Western Imperialism in the 19th Century

This Depth Study looks at the impact of Western imperialism to 1914 in different parts of the world.

1 Why did Europeans take over much of the world in the nineteenth century?

Focus Points

- What had been the impact of imperialism by the start of the 19th century?
- How did imperialism develop during the 19th century?
- What social, political, military, economic and religious factors encouraged imperialism?
- How was imperialism justified at the time?

2 What was the nature and impact of 19th-century imperialism in China?

Focus Points

- What was the nature of Chinese society in the early 19th century?
- How did Western countries extend their influence in China in the 19th century?
- How did the Chinese react to European intervention?
- How significant was the impact of Western intervention for China?

3 What was the nature and impact of 19th-century imperialism in India?

Focus Points

- What was the nature of British rule before 1857?
- Why did rebellion against British rule occur in 1857, and why did it fail?
- How much were British attitudes and the nature of their rule changed by the events of 1857?
- How much was 19th-century India changed by British rule?

4. Curriculum content

4 What was the nature and impact of 19th-century imperialism in Africa?

Focus Points

- Why was there a scramble for colonies in Africa in the 19th century?
- What different methods of rule were used in Africa by the Europeans?
- How were Africans affected by European rule?
- Did Europeans benefit from their colonies in Africa?

Specified Content

- The extent of imperialism by the start of the 19th century, and how much it spread during the century
- The nature of imperialism: social, political, military, economic and religious reasons for imperialism
- European attitudes towards imperialism, and towards non-European races.
- Chinese society and attitudes towards foreigners before c.1840
- The causes and results of the Opium Wars
- The actions of the Western powers in China and the role of the missionaries
- The Self-Strengthening Movement
- The Sino-Japanese war and its consequences for China
- The significance of the Boxer rising
- The impact of Western intervention on Chinese society and culture.
- Indian society, religions and culture under British rule in the first half of the 19th century
- The impact of Bentinck and Dalhousie
- The causes of the Mutiny of 1857 and reasons for its failure
- The immediate and long-term effects of the Mutiny
- Changes in the nature of British rule.
- Different reasons for European interest in Africa
- The scramble for Africa and the Berlin Conference
- Direct and indirect rule
- The effects of European rule on Africans
- The impact of imperialism in Africa for Europeans; colonial rivalry and trade.

Note: examination questions on this Depth Study will not refer to specific African countries, but candidates will be expected to refer to relevant examples in their answers.

5. Coursework: guidance for centres

5.1 Approval of coursework schemes

To help Centres devise and set appropriate coursework tasks (especially those Centres preparing Coursework for the first time for this exam), CIE Coursework Consultants advise on, assess and approve proposed coursework schemes. Centres must send their Coursework schemes (at any time during the course) to:

The Product Manager
Cambridge IGCSE History
University of Cambridge International Examinations
1 Hills Road
Cambridge
CB1 2EU
UK

CIE will return Consultants' comments as quickly as possible. Once CIE has approved a coursework scheme, Centres do not need to resubmit it annually, unless it changes.

5.2 The nature and setting of Coursework

Candidates must complete two coursework assignments, based on content taken from one or two Depth Studies. Centres can devise Depth Studies of their own, if they want to cover the history of countries not included in the current curriculum, but these must be approved in advance by CIE (see above).

The structure of each assignment is as follows:

Assignment 1 will examine the significance of an individual, development, place or event (meeting Assessment Objectives 1 and 2)

Assignment 2 will consist of a source-based investigation of a historical question, issue or problem (meeting Objective 3).

Each assignment is worth 20 marks. Assignments must consist of a number of shorter questions, rather than a single 'essay' title. Together, the two Assignments should total around 1500 words, but there is no penalty for exceeding this word count.

'Levels of response' marking schemes must be created for each assignment. These marking schemes must relate to the appropriate Assessment Objective(s) and the Marking Criteria set out in 6.1.

Positive marking is encouraged, rewarding achievement rather than penalising failure. The award of marks must be directly and exclusively linked to the relevant Assessment Objective(s). No other Assessment Objectives may be assessed. Assessment must focus on the quality of the candidate's work, not quantity or presentation.

5. Coursework: guidance for centres

5.3 The production of Coursework

Coursework may be produced in class or in the student's own time. Teachers can offer guidance on how best to approach a Coursework task, but must be careful not to exert too much influence over students' decisions. Coursework must be the student's own work. Any quotations and copied material must be fully acknowledged. Once Coursework has been marked, candidates are not allowed to repeat the task or redraft their work.

All Coursework which is submitted for moderation must be kept in flat card files (not ring binders). They must be marked with candidates' names and numbers, and the Centre name and number.

5.4 Coursework examples

Samples of Coursework Assignments and Marking Schemes are available from CIE on request. Examples of assignments for the following Depth Studies are currently available:

- Germany, 1918–45
- Russia, 1905–41
- The USA, 1919–41
- China, 1945–c.1990
- Southern Africa in the 20th century
- Israelis and Palestinians, 1945–c.1994.

Please send details of any sample Assignment(s) you would like to receive. Requests should be addressed to:

The Product Manager
Cambridge IGCSE History
University of Cambridge International Examinations
1 Hills Road
Cambridge
CB1 2EU
UK

Coursework will be assessed using Assessment Objectives 1–3. Marks will be weighted as follows:

Assessment Objective 1:	10 marks
Assessment Objective 2:	10 marks
Assessment Objective 3:	20 marks

6. Coursework: assessment criteria

6.1 Marking criteria for Coursework

Marks should be awarded for each Assessment Objective, using the criteria listed below. Note that the descriptions below are general and refer to a candidate's overall performance in each Assessment Objective, and therefore they should not be used to mark specific tasks. A 'levels of response' marking scheme should be devised for each task.

The total mark achieved for a particular Assessment Objective will place the candidate in one of the following Mark Bands. The candidate's work should demonstrate the qualities given for that band. If it does not, the marks should be adjusted.

Assessment Objectives 1 and 2

Band 1: Mark range 1–6

AO1 (3 marks available):

- Candidates can select and use some relevant information to construct narratives, descriptions and explanations. These will be straightforward and accurate but are likely to be relatively brief or limited in scope.

AO2 (3 marks available):

- Candidates can describe some of the main events, people and changes, and give a few reasons for – and results of – these main events and changes.
- Candidates can describe a few features of an event, issue or period, including, at a basic level, characteristic ideas, attitudes and beliefs.

Band 2: Mark range 7–13

AO1 (6 marks available):

- Candidates can select, organise and deploy a wider range of relevant information to produce structured narratives, descriptions and explanations which are accurate and reasonably thorough but are nonetheless limited to the more obvious aspects of the matter under consideration.

AO2 (7 marks available):

- Candidates can produce structured descriptions and explanations of events, people, issues and changes, and analyse causes and consequences.
- Candidates can describe, analyse and explain key features and characteristics of situations, periods and societies including the variety of ideas, attitudes and beliefs held by people at the time.

Band 3: Mark range 14–20

AO1 (10 marks available):

- Candidates can select, organise and deploy an extensive range of relevant information to produce consistently well structured narratives, descriptions and explanations. These are thorough and accurate, and show an appreciation of the wider historical context.

6. Coursework: assessment criteria

AO2 (10 marks available):

- Candidates can analyse relationships between a wide range of events, people, ideas and changes. Their explanations and analyses of causes and consequences of events and changes are well substantiated and are set in their wider historical context.
- Candidates can give reasons for the diversity of features and ideas, attitudes and beliefs in the periods, societies and situations studied, and can explain the interrelationship between them.

Assessment Objective 3

Band 1: Mark range 1–6

- Candidates can comprehend sources but take them at face value. They can identify those that are useful for particular tasks and can draw simple conclusions. They can identify differences in the ways in which events or issues have been interpreted.

Band 2: Mark range 7–13

- Candidates can evaluate and use sources critically to investigate issues and reach conclusions. They can explain why differences exist in the ways in which events or issues have been interpreted.

Band 3: Mark range 14–20

- Candidates can evaluate and use a range of sources critically to investigate issues, and to reach reasoned and substantiated conclusions. They can explain how and why differences exist in the ways in which events and issues are interpreted, and they can evaluate these interpretations.

6. Coursework: assessment criteria

6.2 Notes on moderation

Internal moderation

If two or more teachers within a Centre are involved in internal assessment of Coursework, Centres must make arrangements to ensure that all candidates are assessed to a common standard.

External moderation

CIE will undertake the external moderation of internally assessed Coursework.

Internally moderated marks for all candidates must reach CIE by the following deadlines:

May/June examination	30 April 2012
November examination	31 October 2012

These marks can be submitted by using MS1 mark sheets or by using Cameo. Consult the Handbook for Centres for more information on both these methods.

On receiving the internally moderated marks, CIE selects a sample of candidates whose work will be externally moderated. CIE will ask Centres to submit the Coursework of these candidates as soon as possible, together with the relevant Individual Candidate Record Cards and Coursework Assessment Summary Forms. Copies of these forms may be found at the back of this Syllabus Booklet (7.4 and 7.5).

For more information about external moderation, please consult the Handbook for Centres and the Administrative Guide for Centres.

6. Coursework: assessment criteria

6.3 Grade descriptions

Grade A

To achieve a Grade A, a candidate will be able to:

- accurately recall, select and deploy relevant historical knowledge to support a coherent and logical argument
- communicate in a clear and coherent manner using appropriate historical terminology
- demonstrate an understanding of the complexity of historical concepts
- distinguish clearly between cause and consequence, change and continuity, and similarity and difference, by selectively deploying accurate and relevant historical evidence
- show an understanding of individuals and societies in the past
- understand the importance of trying to establish motives
- interpret and evaluate a wide range of historical sources and their use as evidence
- identify precisely the limitations of particular sources
- compare and contrast a range of sources and draw clear, logical conclusions.

Grade C

To achieve a Grade C, a candidate will be able to:

- recall, select and deploy relevant historical knowledge in support of a logical argument
- communicate clearly and coherently, using appropriate historical terminology
- distinguish between cause and consequence, change and continuity, and similarity and difference, by the deployment of accurate though limited evidence
- show an understanding of individuals and societies in the past
- interpret and evaluate historical sources and their use as evidence
- indicate the limitations of particular historical sources
- compare and contrast a range of sources and draw coherent conclusions.

Grade F

To achieve a Grade F, a candidate will be able to:

- recall a limited amount of accurate and relevant historical knowledge
- use simple historical terminology and communicate in an understandable form
- demonstrate a basic understanding of the historical concepts of causation, change and continuity, and similarity and difference
- display knowledge of the perspectives of other people, based on specific examples of situations and events
- interpret and evaluate historical sources and their use as evidence in a limited way
- make comparisons between pieces of evidence without drawing conclusions.

6.4 Notes on the Individual Candidate Record Card and the Coursework Assessment Summary Form

The Individual Student Record Card can be found at the back of this booklet (see Section 7). To complete the form, follow the instructions which are printed on the back of the form.

Note: the Individual Student Record Cards are only to be used by teachers for candidates who have undertaken Coursework as part of the IGCSE Certificate.

The Coursework Assessment Summary Form can also be found at the back of this booklet (see Section 7). To complete the form, follow the instructions printed on the back.

More details on procedures for external moderation are also given on the reverse of this form.

The Individual Candidate Record Card

Instructions for completing the Individual Candidate Record Card

1. Enter the information required at the head of the form.
2. Mark the Coursework assignments for each candidate according to instructions given in the syllabus booklet.
3. Enter the marks awarded and the total marks for each Assessment Objective in the appropriate boxes. Complete any other sections of the form required.
4. Ensure that the addition of marks is independently checked.

It is essential that the marks of candidates from different teaching groups within each Centre are moderated internally. This means that the marks awarded to all candidates within a Centre must be brought to a common standard by the teacher responsible for co-ordinating the internal assessment (i.e. the internal moderator), and a single valid and reliable set of marks should be produced which reflects the relative attainment of all the candidates in the Coursework component at the Centre. The outcome of internal moderation, in terms of the number of marks added to or subtracted from the initial total, must be clearly shown when marks are transferred onto the Coursework Assessment Summary Form.

5. Transfer the marks to the Coursework Assessment Summary Form. Follow the instructions given on the back of that document.
7. Keep all Individual Candidate Record Cards and Coursework, as these will be required for external moderation. Further detailed instructions about external moderation will be sent in late March of the year of the June Examination and in early October of the year of the November examination. See also the instructions on the Coursework Assessment Summary Form.

Note: These Record Cards are to be used by teachers only for students who have undertaken Coursework as part of their Cambridge IGCSE.

The Coursework Assessment Summary Form

A. Instructions for completing the Coursework Assessment Summary Form

1. Enter the information required at the head of the form.
2. List the candidates so that their details can be easily transferred to the computer-printed Coursework Mark Sheet, MS1, at a later stage (i.e. in candidate index number order; see B.1 below for more detail). Show the teaching group or set for each candidate – this can be done using the teacher's initials.
3. Transfer each candidate's marks from his or her Individual Candidate Record Card to this form as follows:
 - In the columns for individual skills or assignments, enter the marks awarded before internal moderation took place.
 - In the column headed 'Total Mark', enter the total mark awarded before internal moderation took place.
 - In the column headed 'Internally Moderated Mark', enter the total mark awarded after internal moderation took place.
4. Both the teacher completing the form and the internal moderator (or moderators) must check the form and complete and sign the form where indicated.

B. Procedures for external moderation

1. CIE will send a computer-printed Coursework Mark Sheet, MS1, to each Centre in late March (for the May/June examination) and in early October (for the November examination). MS1 will list the names and index numbers of each candidate.
2. Transfer each candidate's total internally moderated mark from the Coursework Assessment Summary Form to the computer-printed Coursework Mark Sheet, MS1.
3. MS1 is in two parts; return the top copy to CIE as soon as possible, using the envelope provided. Deadlines for return are:
 - 30 April (for the May/June examination)
 - 31 October (for the November examination).
4. CIE will select a number of candidates whose work is required for external moderation. When you receive the list of selected candidates, send CIE:
 - the candidates' Coursework
 - their Individual Candidate Record Cards
 - the relevant Coursework Assessment Summary Form
 - the second copy of the form MS1
 - a copy of the Coursework instructions given by you to students
 - information on how you undertook internal moderation.
5. On all forms returned, those candidates selected for external moderation must be indicated by an asterisk (*).

Note: CIE reserves the right to request further samples of Coursework as part of the external moderation process.

8. Additional information

8.1 Guided learning hours

IGCSE syllabuses are designed on the assumption that candidates have about 130 guided learning hours per subject over the duration of the course. ('Guided learning hours' include direct teaching and any other supervised or directed study time. They do not include private study by the candidate.)

However, this figure is for guidance only, and the number of hours required may vary according to local curricular practice and the candidates' prior experience of the subject.

8.2 Recommended prior learning

We recommend that candidates who are beginning this course should have previously studied some History.

8.3 Progression

IGCSE Certificates are general qualifications that enable candidates to progress either directly to employment, or to proceed to further qualifications.

Candidates who are awarded grades C to A* in IGCSE History are well prepared to follow courses leading to AS and A Level History, or the equivalent.

8.4 Component codes

Because of local variations, in some cases component codes will be different in instructions about making entries for examinations and timetables from those printed in this syllabus, but the component names will be unchanged to make identification straightforward.

8.5 Grading and reporting

IGCSE results are shown by one of the grades A*, A, B, C, D, E, F or G indicating the standard achieved, Grade A* being the highest and Grade G the lowest. 'Ungraded' indicates that the candidate's performance fell short of the standard required for Grade G. 'Ungraded' will be reported on the statement of results but not on the certificate. For some language syllabuses CIE also reports separate oral endorsement grades on a scale of 1 to 5 (1 being the highest).

8. Additional information

Percentage uniform marks are also provided on each candidate's Statement of Results to supplement their grade for a syllabus. They are determined in this way:

- A candidate who obtains...
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade A* obtains a percentage uniform mark of 90%.
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade A obtains a percentage uniform mark of 80%.
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade B obtains a percentage uniform mark of 70%.
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade C obtains a percentage uniform mark of 60%.
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade D obtains a percentage uniform mark of 50%.
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade E obtains a percentage uniform mark of 40%.
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade F obtains a percentage uniform mark of 30%.
 - ... the minimum mark necessary for a Grade G obtains a percentage uniform mark of 20%.
 - ... no marks receives a percentage uniform mark of 0%.

Candidates whose mark is none of the above receive a percentage mark in between those stated according to the position of their mark in relation to the grade 'thresholds' (i.e. the minimum mark for obtaining a grade). For example, a candidate whose mark is halfway between the minimum for a Grade C and the minimum for a Grade D (and whose grade is therefore D) receives a percentage uniform mark of 55%.

The uniform percentage mark is stated at syllabus level only. It is not the same as the 'raw' mark obtained by the candidate, since it depends on the position of the grade thresholds (which may vary from one session to another and from one subject to another) and it has been turned into a percentage.

8.6 Resources

Copies of syllabuses, the most recent question papers and Principal Examiners' reports are available on the Syllabus and Support Materials CD-ROM, which is sent to all CIE Centres.

Resources are also listed on CIE's public website at www.cie.org.uk. Please visit this site on a regular basis as the Resource lists are updated through the year.

Access to teachers' email discussion groups, suggested schemes of work and regularly updated resource lists may be found on the CIE Teacher Support website at <http://teachers.cie.org.uk>. This website is available to teachers at registered CIE Centres.
