4. CONCLUSION

PLZ CORECT MY MISTAKES

Go confidently in the direction of your dreams. Live the life you have imagined well.in first instance , good effort has been made on your part to draw outlines of an essay tht demands a comprehensive insight so you deserve an appreciation .

However, lets seek an other opinion regarding the outlines here...

This topic needs (in my opinion) to be elaborated elucidately describing the different concepts of an ideal state.(theories of an ideal states may be quoted in intro) then subjectively explaining your own point of view regarding an ideal state and "Ideal state as today it should be".

Further, outlines should follow in order as...

Part -I

1.what is an ideal state?

2.Ideal state in contemporary world.nd your subjective approach towards an ideal state ...one may be comparative analytical in ones approach towards dealing this sort of an essay.

3. Functions, duties and responsibilities of different pillars of state (and how they ought to be in ideal state) i.e. legislature, executive, Judiciary
4. System of Govt. (Democratic or what)

Part -ii

Now turning towards Pakistan. Whether Pakistan is an ideal state?

Now you can explain weaknesses in form of Govt. and Pillars of state.
blah..blah...blah.....

Part-iii

Here now you can put whatever you can gather in your mind in form of strategy for turning Pakistan into an Ideal State.

and your outlines in 3 seem to be somehow relevant and you can manage it sound examples.

Finally ...The conclusion....

But wait....

you must have clear idea that what is it you call an ideal State.

Therefore, in my opinion ..your intro (first two outlines) do not seem to be relevant to the topic.. and amounts to exaggeration...or going stray from the theme of topic.

In essay ... one should have a clear idea what one is going to write and whether one is hitting the topic or not...

For, essay (lets make no bone) is life line of CSS...
